

Rising temperatures, already higher in fragile and conflict-affected states, endanger human health and productivity (median temperature, degree Celsius; 1950 – 2021)

Source: World Bank Climate Change Knowledge Portal and authors' estimates.